

Provisional Admission

Provisional admission is limited to students generally lacking one prerequisite or carrying an undergraduate GPA below 3.0. If a student is admitted with a low undergraduate GPA, that student must complete first 9 credits at UWGB with a GPA of 3.0 or above. If a student is admitted while lacking a prerequisite, the student must complete that competency during or before the first semester of graduate school.

If a student is provisionally admitted with a low undergraduate GPA, that student must complete the first 9 graduate credits at UWGB with a minimum GPA of 3.0. If the student fails to meet this provision, they will be suspended.
